

Bryan graduated ~~late~~ June. She graduated in April & they left to go to work for Bell Telephone Engineering in D. C. in July right after our reunion in Aspen Grove.

He later (after they were engaged) let her read his patr. blessing. It said he would be called "to find his wife" and he always thought this a "peculiar" statement. right after he met her. He had just been put in the bishopric when he met her & right afterward his Bishop was called to be Bishop of a regular town ward & he was released from the Bishopric. He really was "called" just long enough to find Charlotte at least for that time.

Charlotte & Bryan had their first child, Sarah, Sept 5, 1919. Speaking of this type of spontaneous experience - I want to record as first I remember - one in which Virginia and Barry were involved.

Virginia had been going for over a year with a young man who had been in the same mission as she had been.

Virginia had come home from her missionary finished school & was at the time teaching 4th grade in the Provo School Dist. Her young man did not show any signs of committing himself to marriage so Virginia told him she would not see him again until he made up his mind. She finally decided that he was not ready to get married and she stopped seeing him. About a month later her friends asked her to visit their campus branch with them and she did so. That morning she went to her own Ward young adult R.S. I went to S.S. & locked the door. She had planned to come home & put on her contacts before going to S.S. at her friends' branch. She had to go wearing her regular glasses. The

The class she visited was the genealogy class taught by a ~~graduate~~ - graduate law student, Barry Wood. She no sooner came home (telling us about the very knowledgeable teacher of the class that morning) when he called & asked her for a
