Dear Donna:

Enclosed are the crocheted christmas trimmings which I spoke with you on the phone today,

I have shipped the following:

1. 24 Beige Snowflakes (lg)	my cost 5.00
2. 18 beige Bells	my Cost 5.00
3. 24 White daisy snowflakes	my cost 2.50
4. 24 Rounds (coasters)	my Cost 2.50
5. 24 Smaller white snowflakes	My cost 2.50
6. 24 better white snowflakes	my cost 2.50

I have also enclosed an envelope with samples, and you can put what you think is a fair price on them so I will know what I have sent you and what you are giving me for them.

The large beige snowflakes are lovely and the bells, too.
I would expect to get at least three dollars for them.
The only pattern which didn't turn out well is the one marked X and the ladies did foul up on it somewhat, but if I can't get at least $1.00 for even that one, send them back and I will use them on my own trees.

The other white ones you will know better than I what they are likely to bring, and what is a fair price for them for me.

Using the samples which you can mail back to me so I will have a record for my file of what I sent and what they are, will you fill in the cost blank above and send me back one of the copies.

Thank you and good luck on your Christmas season sales.
I think you have a cute store and hope you don't get replaced with a grill.

Sincerely,
