

~~By~~ We are now in the air, over snow capped mountains barely visible through intermittent cloud cover & approaching the descent into Juneau. From there we will fly to Seattle & then to Salt Lake.

The best thing about the tour has been the comradeship & congeniality of those we have traveled with.

We take home with us many happy memories of the beauty, and, as Bro. Ed Lundquist expressed it, "The unfinishedness of Alaska" - but the thing that will linger, I think, is the spirit of Alaska, its beauty & its indefinable uniqueness.

God has made for his Children, a beautiful and interesting planet to live upon, we're glad we came not the least of which is Alaska.
We're glad we came.
