OK, the first question provoked not one response from the listserv thus far. I guess there are too many poor students out there who think not that their days of probation in law/medical/graduate school will net them the treasures of the earth.

So, how about this: 2 Nephi 9:28

"O that cunning plan of the evil one! O the vainness, and the frailties, and the foolishness of men! When they are learned they think they are wise, and they hearken not unto the counsel of God, for they set it aside, supposing they know of themselves, wherefore, their wisdom is foolishness and it profiteth them not. And they shall perish."

How many doctors/lawyers/educators/etc. have you known who might have a problem with this? How about BYU professors? How about you personally? Have you ever felt that you knew more about a situation in your life than God might have the answers for? Do we fail to ask Him for the knowledge we need in our lives supposing of our own selves that we have knowledge sufficient for our needs? What was the temptation that Satan approached Adam with in the garden of Eden? Wasn't it KNOWLEDGE?
