Instructions for the Partner

(References are to the Internal Revenue Code.)

Copy B of Schedule K-1 (Form 1065) is being used by the partnership to inform you of your distributive share of the partnership's income, credits, deductions, etc. It should be retained for your records, and not filed with your Form 1040. Copy A has been filed with the IRS.

Tax Preference Items.—Lines 16(j)(1) and (2) contain your share of excess intangible drilling costs and net income (loss) from oil and gas properties of the partnership. Combine these items with similar items from all oil and gas properties in which you have an interest in order to determine the amount of intangible drilling costs tax preference you are to report on Form 4625 (individuals) or Form 4626 (other taxpayers).

Partner's Own Tax Return.—Your distributive share of any partnership income, gain, loss, deduction, credit, etc. to be reported on your return should include the amount reported on line 1(b) of Schedule K-1 as well as other amounts reported elsewhere on Schedule K-1. For example, the amounts reported on lines 1(a)(1), 1(a)(2), 4, 5, 6, 7, 14, and 15. To determine the amount of a partnership loss you may claim, please read the limitation on losses and the "at risk" provisions explained below.

Depletion.—Sections 611 through 613A impose limitations on the depletion deduction allowable for oil and gas properties. If the partnership is engaged in the development of oil or gas properties, line 14(b) should contain information you need to compute your depletion deduction which each partner must determine separately.

Limitation on losses.—In determining the amount to be reported on your own return you may not claim your share of a partnership loss (including capital loss) that is in excess of the adjusted basis of your interest in the partnership at the end of the partnership's taxable year. In the case of liabilities incurred after December 31, 1976, the adjusted basis of your interest in the partnership (for determining limitations on losses) generally shall not include any portion of any partnership liability with respect to which you have no personal liability. (See section 704(d) for exceptions.)

Special "at risk" rules apply in the case of a partnership engaged in the activity of—(a) holding, producing, or distributing motion picture films or video tapes, (b) farming (as defined in section 464(e)), (c) leasing any section 1245 property, or (d) exploring for or exploiting, oil and gas resources, as a trade or business or for the production of income.

Your share of any section 465(d) loss from such activity for the taxable year shall be allowed only to the extent of the aggregate amount with respect to which you are "at risk" with respect to the activity at the close of the partnership's taxable year.

You are generally considered "at risk" with respect to an activity to the extent of the cash and the adjusted basis of other property you contributed to the activity as well as any amounts borrowed for use in the activity for which you are either personally liable or have pledged personally-owned property as security (other than property used in the activity).

You are not considered "at risk" with respect to the proceeds from your share of any nonrecourse loan used to finance the activity or the acquisition of property used in the activity. However, you are generally considered "at risk" to the extent of the net fair market value of your personal assets which secure nonrecourse loans, the proceeds of which are used in the activity.

Amounts borrowed shall not be considered to be "at risk" with respect to an activity if such amounts are borrowed from any person who has an interest (other than an interest as a creditor) in the activity, or if the lender is related to you within the meaning of section 267(b). You are not "at risk" for any amount to the extent that you (or the partnership) are protected against loss by a guarantee, stop-loss order or other similar arrangement.

Your interest in the partnership is treated as a single activity to the extent that the partnership is engaged in activities described in any one of the items (a) through (d), above. For example, if the partnership is engaged in the operation of two separate farms (within the provisions of section 464(e)), the two operations are considered a single activity for purposes of determining the amount for which you are "at risk." However, if the partnership is engaged in two (or more) different types of the "at risk" activities, you are considered to be engaged in two (or more) separate activities and you must determine the amount for which you are "at risk" for each of the separate types of activities.

If the partnership is engaged in two (or more) different types of "at risk" activities or any combination of "at risk" activities and activities other than "at risk," any loss from each "at risk" activity should be identified separately on line 14(b) or a separate statement so you can determine the amount of any such losses that you are entitled to deduct on your return for the taxable year.

Any loss from a section 465 activity not allowed under this section for the taxable year shall be treated as a deduction allocable to such activity in the first succeeding taxable year.

See section 465 for additional details. Special transitional rules relating to movies, video tapes, and leasing activities can be found in section 204 (c)(2) and (3) of the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

For more information, obtain Publication 541, Tax Information on Partnership Income and Losses.
