

Let me know your reaction to the "drawing for Christmas idea in the next Hallmanack. O.K.?"

After Editing by Mother (?) copies of the "family remembrances will be given to all families. Courtesy Mom and Dad Hall. 711 N Lambert Ln Provo, Utah 84601 Jan. 25, 1978

Dear Children:

I am writing this special (outside the Hallmanack) letter while I have this straight and on my mind so that if any of you want to change the order you may do so.

I don't know whether I will be ~~xxxx~~ able to stick to this. It may not seem like Christmas to me or birthdays or whatever, but this is our plan.

From now on until you get sick of it or I get sick of it, we will send magazine subscriptions for birthdays. Except for the children, and Mom and Dad Hall will send presents to the children. (And Christmas)

For Christmas the following couples will get the National Geographic. Doug and Nancy, Brian and Charlotte, David and Karen, Sherlene and Dan, and Dad Langford. Tracy and Betsy, Liz and Marty and Barry and Virginia will get the BYU Studies. Now if any of you would rather change from BYU Studies to the Geographic or vice versa, let me know.

For the fellow's birthdays, (Doug, Marty, Tracy Jr., Brian, Barry, David, Dan, we will send "Popular Science". Liz, Betsy, Charlotte, Karen, Ginger, Sherlene, and Nancy will all get "Better Homes and Gardens" unless you would rather have "Flower and Garden," or "Reader's Digest". If that is the case let me know.

Our family is getting too large for you young families to send everyone a gift. I suggest that we put all the adult's names in a hat and xx each draw one name to buy a gift for. That would mean a $5.00 gift for each or $10.00 a family. Then each child would buy a one or two dollar gift for another cousin (also chosen by a drawing) (in age groups) This exchanging (cousins) would start when the child is five (which will give them something to look forward to). By that age the child should be in control of some funds of his own. The child himself should buy or make the present for his cousin, which will entail sacrifice, planning, and giving on HIS or HER part. How does this sound? We would draw the names in July at our reunion, or when we don't have a reunion, we will let Grandmother or Grandfather Hall put the names in a Hat and send the names drawn to the appropriate person, or a list of those names drawn sent in the almanack. This would mean that there would be six months or more for the recipients or the wives (which is ~~xxxx~~ who will end up doing the adult sending of course) chances to watch for bargains or clever things in the course of their regular shopping. Mom and Dad get gifts from everyone (or no one, if you prefer) they will not draw, nor will their names be put in the hat. We are alone now and expect to hear from you all at Christmas and on our Birthdays even if it is only in the form of Cards (which we adore) or pictures (which we doubly adore).

I have already ordered my next Birthday, Mother's day, Father's day, Father's Birthday, Decoration day, Halloween's day, Thanksgiving day.....etc. in the form of your written remembrances of fun times (and sad ones, too) of ~~xxx~~ your childhood in our homes. Try to not be too hard on Mother, even though she deserves it--but don't be dishonest, either. It would be neat to share these at our Reunion in June (24th). Daddy is splicing together all our old family movies, etc. and we hope you are all planning your part on the family home evening at camp. Love Mom. Thank you for your Christmas presents--we loved them.

Subscriptions will probably caper for a yr. we will start in 1977, Jan

Let me know your reaction to the "drawing for Christmas idea in the next Hallmanack. O.K.?

After Editing by Mother (?) copies of the "family remembrances will be given to all families. 1711 N Lambert Ln
Provo, Utah 84601
Courtesy Mom and Dad Hall. Jan. 25, 1978

Dear Children:

I am writing this special (outside the Hallmanack) letter while
I have this straight and on my mind so that if any of you want to change the order you may do so.

I don't know whether I will be ~~xxxx~~ able to stick to this. It may not seem like Christmas to me or birthdays or whatever, but this is our plan.

From now on until you get sick of it or I get sick of it (And Christmas we will send magazine subscriptions for birthdays. Except for the children, and Mom and Dad Hall will send presents to the children.

For Christmas the following couples will get the National Geographic.
Doug and Nancy, Brian and Charlotte, David and Karen, Sherlene and Dan, and Dad Langford. Tracy and Betsy, Liz and Marty and Barry and Virginia will get the BYU Studies. Now if any of you would rather change from BYU Studies to the Geographic or vice versa, let me know.

For the fellow's birthdays, (Doug, Marty, Tracy Jr., Brian, Barry, David, Dan, we will send "Popular Science". Liz, Betsy, Charlotte, Karen, Ginger, Sherlene, and Nancy will all get "Better Homes and Gardens" unless you would rather have "Flower and Garden," or "Reader's Digest". If that is the case let me know.

Our family is getting too large for you young families to send everyone a gift. I suggest that we put all the adult's names in a hat and xx each draw one name to buy a gift for. That would mean a $5.00 gift for each or $10.00 a family. Then each child would buy a one or two dollar gift for another cousin (also chosen by a drawing) (in age groups)
This exchanging (cousins) would start when the child is five (which will give them something to look forward to). By that age the child should be in control of some funds of his own. The child himself should buy or make the present for his cousin, which will entail sacrifice, planning, and giving on HIS or HER part. How does this sound? We would draw the names in July at our reunion, or when we don't have a reunion, we will let Grandmother or Grandfather Hall put the names in a Hat and send the names drawn to the appropriate person, or a list of those names drawn sent in the almanack. This would mean that there would be six months or more for the recipients or the wives (which is ~~xxxx~~ who will end up doing the adult sending of course) chances to watch for bargains or clever things in the course of their regular shopping. Mom and Dad get gifts from everyone (or no one, if you prefer) they will not draw, nor will their names be put in the hat. We are alone now and expect to hear from you all at Christmas and on our Birthdays even if it is only in the form of Cards (which we adore) or pictures (which we doubly adore).

I have already ordered my next Birthday, Mother's day, Father's day, Father's Birthday, Decoration day, Halloween's day, Thanksgiving day.....etc. in the form of your written remembrances of fun times (and sad ones, too) of ~~xxx~~ your childhood in our homes. Try to not be too hard on Mother, even though she deserves it--but don't be dishonest, either.
It would be neat to share these at our Reunion in June (24th). Daddy is splicing together all our old family movies, etc. and we hope you are all planning your part on the family home evening at camp. Love Mom.
Thank You for your Christmas presents--we loved them.

Subscriptions will probably lapse for a year. I will start in 1979 Jan.

Let me know your reaction to the "drawing for Christmas
idea in the next Hallmanack. O.K.?"

After Editing by Mother (?) copies of the "family
remembrances will be given to all families. 711 N Lambert Ln
Provo, Utah 84601
Courtesy Mom and Dad Hall. Jan. 25, 1978

Dear Children:

I am writing this special (outside the Hallmanack) letter while
I have this straight and on my mind so that if any of you want to change the order you may do so.

I don't know whether I will be ~~xxxx~~ able to stick to this. It may not seem like Christmas to me or birthdays or whatever, but this is our plan.

From now on until you get sick of it or I get sick of it, (And Christmas we will send magazine subscriptions for birthdays. ~~Except for the~~ children, and Mom and Dad Hall will send presents to the children.

For Christmas the following couples will get the National Geographic.
Doug and Nancy, Brian and Charlotte, David and Karen, Sherlene and Dan, and Dad Langford. Tracy and Betsy, Liz and Marty and Barry and Virginia will get the BYU Studies. Now if any of you would rather change from BYU Studies to the Geographic or vice versa, let me know.

For the fellow's birthdays, (Doug, Marty, Tracy Jr., Brian, Barry, David, Dan, we will send "Popular Science". Liz, Betsy, Charlotte, Karen, Ginger, Sherlene, and Nancy will all get "Better Homes and Gardens" unless you would rather have "Flower and Garden," or "Reader's Digest". If that is the case let me know.

Our family is getting too large for you young families to send everyone a gift. I suggest that we put all the adult's names in a hat and xx each draw one name to buy a gift for. That would mean a $5.00 gift for each or $10.00 a family. Then each child would buy a one or two dollar gift for another cousin (also chosen by a drawing) (in age groups)
This exchanging (cousins) would start when the child is five (which will give them something to look forward to). By that age the child should be in control of some funds of his own. The child himself should buy or make the present for his cousin, which will entail sacrifice, planning, and giving on HIS or HER part. How does this sound? We would draw the names in July at our reunion, or when we don't have a reunion, we will let Grandmother or Grandfather Hall put the names in a Hat and send the names drawn to the appropriate person, or a list of those names drawn sent in the almanack. This would mean that there would be six months or more for the recipients or the wives (which is ~~xxxx~~ who will end up doing the adult sending of course) chances to watch for bargains or clever things in the course of their regular shopping. Mom and Dad get gifts from everyone (or no one, if you prefer) they will not draw, nor will their names be put in the hat. We are alone now and expect to hear from you all at Christmas and on our Birthdays even if it is only in the form of Cards (which we adore) or pictures (which we doubly adore).

I have already ordered my next Birthday, Mother's day, Father's day, Father's Birthday, Decoration day, Halloween's day, Thanksgiving
day.....etc. in the form of your written remembrances of fun times (and sad ones, too) of ~~xxx~~ your childhood in our homes. Try to not be too hard on Mother, even though she deserves it--but don't be dishonest, either.
It would be neat to share these at our Reunion in June (24th). Daddy is splicing together all our old family movies, etc. and we hope you are all planning your part on the family home evening at camp. Love Mom.
Thank you for your Christmas presents--we loved them.

11-1-78
Rehearsal for the 1977-78
copy for the 1977-78
copy for the 1977-78

Let me know your reaction to the "drawing for Christmas idea in the next Hallmanack. O.K.?"

After Editing by Mother (?) copies of the "family remembrances will be given to all families. Courtesy Mom and Dad Hall. 711 N Lambert Ln Provo, Utah 84601 Jan. 25, 1978

Dear Children:

I am writing this special (outside the Hallmanack) letter while I have this straight and on my mind so that if any of you want to change the order you may do so.

I don't know whether I will be ~~xxxx~~ able to stick to this. It may not seem like Christmas to me or birthdays or whatever, but this is our plan.

From now on until you get sick of it or I get sick of it, we will send magazine subscriptions for birthdays. ~~Except for the~~ (And Christmas children, and Mom and Dad Hall will send presents to the children.

For Christmas the following couples will get the National Geographic. Doug and Nancy, Brian and Charlotte, David and Karen, Sherlene and Dan, and Dad Langford. Tracy and Betsy, Liz and Marty and Barry and Virginia will get the BYU Studies. Now if any of you would rather change from BYU Studies to the Geographic or vice versa, let me know.

For the fellow's birthdays, (Doug, Marty, Tracy Jr., Brian, Barry, David, Dan, we will send "Popular Science". Liz, Betsy, Charlotte, Karen, Ginger, Sherlene, and Nancy will all get "Better Homes and Gardens" unless you would rather have "Flower and Garden," or "Reader's Digest". If that is the case let me know.

Our family is getting too large for you young families to send everyone a gift. I suggest that we put all the adult's names in a hat and xx each draw one name to buy a gift for. That would mean a $5.00 gift for each or $10.00 a family. Then each child would buy a one or two dollar gift for another cousin (also chosen by a drawing) (in age groups) This exchanging (cousins) would start when the child is five (which will give them something to look forward to). By that age the child should be in control of some funds of his own. The child himself should buy or make the present for his cousin, which will entail sacrifice, planning, and giving on HIS or HER part. How does this sound? We would draw the names in July at our reunion, or when we don't have a reunion, we will let Grandmother or Grandfather Hall put the names in a Hat and send the names drawn to the appropriate person, or a list of those names drawn sent in the almanack. This would mean that there would be six months or more for the recipients or the wives (which is ~~xxxx~~ who will end up doing the adult sending of course) chances to watch for bargains or clever things in the course of their regular shopping. Mom and Dad get gifts from everyone (or no one, if you prefer) they will not draw, nor will their names be put in the hat. We are alone now and expect to hear from you all at Christmas and on our Birthdays even if it is only in the form of Cards (which we adore) or pictures (which we doubly adore).

I have already ordered my next Birthday, Mother's day, Father's day, Father's Birthday, Decoration day, Halloween's day, Thanksgiving day.....etc. in the form of your written remembrances of fun times (and sad ones, too) of ~~xxx~~ your childhood in our homes. Try to not be too hard on Mother, even though she deserves it--but don't be dishonest, either. It would be neat to share these at our Reunion in June (24th). Daddy is splicing together all our old family movies, etc. and we hope you are all planning your part on the family home evening at camp. Love Mom. Thank you for your Christmas presents--we loved them.

Subscriptions will probably lapse for a yr. I will start in 1979, Jan

