

dear family,

Boy! Have i got my handsfull!
I put an ad in the newspaper that
said;

"Will babysit with T.L.C.
Ages 1-5 years. Lots of fun and lots of love.
call Nancy 375-4507"
(up to 9 hours a day !!)

Soooo... I am now sitting 4 children, 3 boys, 1 girl and Carli, of course! the boys are ages: 18 mos., 3 1/2 and 4 1/2, and the little girl
is 16 months old. The one little boy that is 4 1/2 is named Ronnie - He's a little long-haired bully. The 3 1/2 boy is named Kenny. Kenny's handicapped His brain doesn't send signals to the nerves in his left leg and left hand, so he isn't able to use them very well. He's such a loveable child though,
and so shy too!

Today Ronny (Bully) pushed Kenny
in the gutter out front of the house,
and Kenny was drenched from head to toe. Ronny was scared that I would get mad, so he ran and hid.

Kenny came crying to me, teeth chattering, and told me that Ronny was in the ditch too. I saw visions of drowned kids, and panicked. So I went searching for Ronny, who was nowhere in sight... I even took the jeep and searched the neighborhood. An hour went by and Ronny wasn't to be seen, so I called his mother from work. She rushed down, and just as she drove in, here comes Ronny strutting up the sidewalk. Boy did he get it! His mother and father even gave me instructions to spank him when needed in the future. OH BOY!

Carli has been real sick, too, poor girl!

(I make $280.⁰⁰ a month tending these kids... not too bad - it pays the bills.)

My hair's starting to get longer. I'm doing all sorts of different things to it. I can put it in a french twist, and pull it back into a bun ect. I dyed it back to my natural color yesterday.

Doug is a permanent worker with the federal Government now. We've got insurance too. It's a good feeling to know we're getting settled at last.

Well that's all the news for now

Love Nancy & Doug
