

BIRDBRAIN REFRAIN

(Wearing basket over head)

Did that oil bill get your gander?
Birdseed prices give a jolt?
Taxes raise your hackles?
Inflation make you molt?

Could your plumage use some preening?
Does nest upkeep ground your flights? (Wave feather-mop and drop it)
Did your diet join the Dodo?
Does your garden harbor mites?

Is your nest all lined and mudded,
But somehow lacks a mate?
Or is yours overcrowded?
Is your rooster always late?

Do gray feathers grate your gizzard?
Have your fledglings flown the nest?
Will you have to hawk your pinions
To fly South with all the rest? (Or did your brood go West?)

Does your incubation hatch more
Than a scripture oversight?
Do your goslings wren-der service?
Are your quill strokes erudite?

WELL, THIS EASTER SEASON...

DON'T BE A BASKET CASE! (Remove basket from head and give to someone to fill).

Why sit scratching worms in the gutter!
Here's a call to make all songbirds flutter!
Something to crow about--
Bring morningcrawlers out...
Proud as a peacock, we strut-her!

YORKTOWN STAKE RELIEF SOCIETY PRESENTS (Point to poster advertisement)

"TO ALL THINGS THERE IS A SEASON!"

Spring is here...

What better reason!

COME! Feather your bonnet (Put on floppy straw hat with pink feathers on brims)
And sharpen your beak;
Display your eggs early--(Show basket, now filled with Easter grass and eggs)
We'll flock there next week...

To alight in New Canaan
We'll lunch in the park--
The scratchin's are juicy;
Prepare for a LARK!

By Kill'em Worthwords

(You may wish to cut some stanzas to shorten commercial)