Dear Family,

We've had a busy but fun month. We met two new Weight cousins - Levi and Robert at a family dinner. Willis and his family were down from Wyoming and it was fun to visit with them.

I attended my first Board meeting of the West Millard Cultural Council. We have a monthly meeting over lunch and the first thing I did was spill a large glass of 7-up. I wanted them to know how Classy I am.

I'm publicity chairman and Bryan (my fine assistant) and I put up 40 posters at schools and businesses advertising auditions for "The Sound of Music" and a Talent Extravaganza that were both held last month. 127 people auditioned for the musical. (last year 15 showed up to audition for Oklahoma) I was the 125th person to audition. I sang "Climb Every Mountain" at 11:45 p.m. and my knees stopped shaking about 15 minutes later. I was so proud of myself for having the guts to get up there and go through with it.

Sarah is enrolled in the 4th quarter of Pre-School offered by our School district. She likes the daily sharing time best and rarely forgets to take something to show.

Hannah feels left out but we try to do something fun together while Sarah is at school. Hyrum discovered climbing which causes great stress and nervous tension for me. But he gives me many pleasurable moments too. His very lovable and is a great patter. Last Sunday he walked up to a little girl, squealed with delight and then patted (or rather whacked) her. She was a bit confused as to whether he was loving or hitting her.

We're glad to have Bryan home in the evenings. I miss the car and the handy Babysitter that I had when he was on living. He is working on "dirt" again and is looking forward to a change of assignment.

I saw some of the stained glass windows that Nancy is working on. I'm amazed at her artistic talent! She's good at cutting glass and Doug's good at chopping trees. Doug pruned Mom's trees first Saturday. That's all for now.

Love,

Charlotte + family
