Religion 302: The Old Testament

Purpose: The purpose of this course is to become familiar with the Old Testament from the death of Solomon (I Kings 12) to Malachi, Chapter 4. In addition to examining the cultural and historical background, we will identify concepts which have significance from our own lives. (For further objectives, see An Introduction to The Old Testament and Its Teachings, Ellis T. Rasmussen pp. i - iii (Hereafter, Syllabus).

Course Requirements: Your summaries of the Assigned Readings, carefully done, will be the only examinations in this course. Therefore, your grade will be determined by the quality of your reading and reporting on that reading.

To earn a "C" grade:

- 1) Read the assigned chapters in The Old Testament, (plus occasional other scriptures). Write a careful, coherent summary of what you read for each of the 15 units. Each summary should be typed, double-spaced and at least one page in length. Be sure to give the references for biblical passages you quote.

To earn a "B" grade:

- 1) Before writing your summary read from at least one other source for each unit. Then write at least 1-2 pages of summary, including important ideas learned from the other source. (Please cite page numbers as you quote from other sources.)

To earn an "A" grade:

Complete the requirements for a "B" and in addition:

- 1) *Read from one additional other source (totaling 2). Then write a 1 page summary, or
- 2) *Memorize 2 scriptures/unit of your own choosing, or
- 3) *Give a 5 minute oral report in class on one of the outside readings you find particularly thought provoking.

*Syllabus
extra source*

*Numbers 1-3 may be completed for extra credit in any grade category. Summaries will be due the last day we study a unit, which will ordinarily be each Thursday, and should be turned in during class, (or no later than 5 p.m. that day at my office.) Attendance at class is required and any more than 5 absences will lower your grade.

Note: Forum and Devotional Assemblies are as good "other sources" as the books on reserve.

Books Required:
