

Dear Ones:
Here it is that time of year again to remember loved ones - I guess its a little hard for you to be away this time of year - We sure think of you often and miss you, but much.

There's not much different going on around here. A lot of snow and cold weather "Did you see papers?" Barbara Taylor is leaving for her mission either this month or next. She has been studying phletics and is waiting until that goes up. Amy and Becky and Jim are going to live in her home until she is gone and take care of it. We are all so happy they will be safe. This will help us mean away from each other gradually. We were so sorry to hear you were hit but someone and involved in another accident. Boy you've really had some bad luck. Saunders like the man that owned the Mercedes was a real sweetheart, worrying more about his car than whether you were injured or not. Saunders like you were lucky to get out alive. Boy you are really giving that Saunders like the work that with the people is really challenging - I guess they are pretty set in their ways and hard to reach.

By the way we received your letter about two weeks ago. I was so good to hear from you - Becky and I both think that you will have plenty we would love to have a face to face talk - The dresses are beautiful but quite short on us, but we will decide if you know. The old Chinese handkerchiefs are so pretty and know Becky will be thrilled.

Love hope you are both feeling better and over the effects of your accident, and that your leg is better from his previous problem.
Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

Thinking of you, and wishing you happiness at Christmas time and all through the year
much love,
Lamar, Elaine,
Becky and Jordan

Have a Merry Christmas!

The cards have been beautiful and we have shared them with all of ladies.
