

PLATE 7

Structures in the zone of dislocation

a. Coire a' Mhadaidh and Na Tuadhan from the south. The large-scale fold in the quartzites on Na Tuadhan is associated with steep eastward-dipping faults, which are subparallel to the Ben More thrust, the outcrop of which is marked.

b. Large-scale fold in Cambrian limestones above the sole, east of Chalda House, Loch Assynt, viewed in profile to the southeast.
