

Fickett, W.

60-0123

The image shows a sheet of graph paper with a grid of 20 columns and 30 rows. A header row is present at the top. A central vertical column is defined by two lines, creating a narrow column that spans the entire height of the grid. The rest of the grid is composed of small squares.