Dear Dr. Hall:

I was pleased to hear that you have agreed to speak at the October 3rd meeting of the Louisville section of the ACS. The subject "Diamonds and High Pressure" would be entirely satisfactory, although if you have other topics in mind feel free to suggest them.

The Louisville meeting is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. on October 3rd. Otherwise arrangements are incomplete, and I do not know whether or not the meeting will be preceded by dinner. If not, I would look forward to having dinner with you and your wife if you get here in time.

Louisville is about a two hour drive from Bloomington, Indiana. On the way if you have an extra hour or two you might enjoy stopping at Nashville, Indiana (Arts and Crafts), or at Columbus (modern architecture). A map of Louisville showing points of interest is enclosed.

I have reserved a room for you and your wife at the Holiday Inn-Midtown for the night of the 3rd. I will be in touch with you later concerning the exact plans for the meeting. Please let me know by mail or by phone (502-585-8062) roughly what time you expect to arrive and whether you would like any other arrangements made.

I would appreciate it if you would mail me a written abstract of your talk.

Sincerely yours,

Frank Jones

Dear Tracy:

I was delighted to learn that the Terre Haute group has invited you to speak here in Indiana. I had discussed this possibility with them some time ago. You are scheduled to visit at Indiana University on 2 October 1978. You will be speaking in the afternoon at the chemistry department. When you let me know your travel schedule, I will make reservations for you at a nearby motel. You ought to plan to spend a half day or more here so that you can have some interaction with the faculty and students.

The best way to get to Bloomington is flying to Chicago from Salt Lake City and then traveling via Allegheny Airlines to Bloomington. We would enjoy hearing about synthetic diamond synthesis and also about other high pressure syntheses with which you have been involved. I will need to have an abstract for your talk at least one month in advance of your visit.

I plan to be in the West in August and may have the opportunity of seeing you if I manage to get to Provo. Best wishes.

Sincerely,

Abstract of talk

DIAMONDS AND HIGH PRESSURE

H. Tracy Hall
Distinguished Professor of Chemistry
Brigham Young University
Provo, Utah

Diamonds were first synthesized twenty-four years ago. Very high pressures along with simultaneous high temperatures were required for this feat that had eluded scientists for at least one hundred and twenty-five years.

Diamond grit of special quality not matched by nature was the ugly-duckling product of the first synthesis. About one hundred tons of this product, valued at around one billion dollars have been manufactured to date.

This lecture will cover the history of this development and describe the procedure and the machines used to transform graphite into diamond. The industrial uses of diamond will also be discussed.

Dear Professor Hall:

I would like to thank you again for your excellent talk in Louisville on October 3rd. I believe the entire audience enjoyed the talk and were interested in the subject. Beyond that I suspect we all gained some insight into the excitement and frustration of being an innovator.

Nancy and I very much enjoyed meeting you and Mrs. Hall. We hope that the rest of your trip is going well.

Again, thank you very much for your presentation.

Dear Dr. Hall:

Thank you for agreeing to come to Evansville, Indiana, Wednesday, October 4, 1978, to address the Indiana-Kentucky Border Section of the ACS. We are looking forward to learning about your work with "Diamonds and High Pressure". Your audience will consist of approximately 45 area chemists; one-third from GE's Plastics Division; one-third from Mead Johnson, a large pharmaceutical producer; and the remaining third from smaller industrial laboratories and two area universities (University of Evansville and Indiana State University-Evansville branch).

I have made reservations for you and your wife at the Executive Inn in downtown Evansville. You both are invited to be our guests for dinner with the section officers in the Executive. Please plan to meet in the lobby at 6:00 P.M. near the sofas left of the desk.

I have also made arrangements that reimbursement for your expenses will be waiting for you at Terre Haute.

If you have any further questions or I can be of help in any way, please feel free to call my office (812)838-7264 or home (812)985-3215.

Again, we look forward to your visit next week.
